The King of Crime is designed with two points in mind. The first point is to give the GM a fleshed-out city in which to place his/her Players. Many of the most important buildings and attractions of Central City are laid out, along with nearly all of the major streets and thoroughfares. People and places are also represented in order to give Central City the feel of a real-life metropolis. The GM is, of course, free to change or adapt this city to the needs of his/her Players... The second point in designing this adventure is to allow the Players a chance to portray heroes of their own design. While playing established heroes like the Batman or Green Lantern is fun, many Players want to let their imaginations run wild, allowing them the freedom to adopt the roles of new and totally original heroes. This adventure is primarily for these Players.
