Over The Hill And Around The World: A Baby Boomer's Ride To The End Of The Earth Mr Darby B Roach

There's something about starting the day on a bike. There's a feeling of optimism and adventure and the sense that anything's possible and nothing's for sure. It's quiet, and the air is pure like scentless perfume. The dust hasn't kicked up yet, and it's so clear that you can see forever. Whizzing past in a car, you get a rough idea of what it's like but you're separated from the world by so many layers that you never get a real feel for the landscape. Cycling lets you tap into the true nature of a place and experience it with your soul. The sun on your face, the beckoning horizon and the rhythm of your breathing all conspire to fill you with the simple joy of being alive and on the road. Twelve thousand miles, seventeen countries, one hell of a ride! Get your 'round-the-world adventure fix today with "Over The Hill And Around The World".
