America's Best Comics is a Golden Age comics series that ran for 31 issues from February, 1942 through July, 1949. The series was published by Nedor Comics. Nedor Comics was the comic book line of publisher Ned Pines. In business from 1939 to 1956, Nedor was a prolific publisher during the Golden Age of comic books. Its best-known character is The Black Terror. In June of 1949, all comics were moved to the "Standard Comics" line, with a "Standard Comics" flag-like cover logo (all titles previously had no publisher logo, which was the norm at the time). In 1956, Standard ended and only two were continued by Pines Comics. These comics are in the public domain and various publishers and creators have used them since. You can enjoy again - or for the first time – America's Best Comics #2 with this public domain reprint from UP History and Hobby. Check out the full line - new titles every week! The comic reprints from UP History and Hobby are reproduced from actual classic comics, and sometimes reflect the imperfection of books that are decades old. These books are constantly updated with the best version available - if you are EVER unhappy with the experience or quality of a book, return the book to us to exchange for another title or the upgrade as new files become available.
