- Count Dorkula, I Presume?

In Moonlight Sonata, Katie was a player and a waitress. She used her table waiting to find her prey and reeled them in with her amazing brown hair and stellar body. It had gotten her cars, jewelry, money and anything else she wanted, but she never once found love.

She was pretty sure she did when she met Steve, a soft spoken young man who came in every day for a cup of coffee. He was shyer than most, and he couldn't quite say what she knew he was thinking, so he tried to drink to do it. He came into the restaurant blacked out on cheap whiskey and wine coolers, and he could've killed her if it weren't for a daring rescue by a strange man named Luke who whisked her away and opened her eyes to a world she never thought possible.

In Billionaire with Benefits, a boating enthusiast is dead, an apparent victim of poisoning. But is it a case of accidental ingestion, or did someone set out to put an end to the town's preeminent sloop racer? The town's regatta is only days away. Can Judith bring her skills to bear, and the criminal to justice? There isn't much time.

In The Chill of the Night, Annalisa's quiet but quite resolute refusal of his marriage proposal hung in the air. He tried to ask several questions, all of them meaning the same thing and choked on every word. Finally, tired of his wild, staring eyes and the sound of the panicked thud of his breaking heart, she just sighed and disappeared leaving the room infinitely colder in her absence.

The lovely ghost vampire that he had fallen in love with to the point of nearly throwing away his entire career after being rejected by her was a child killer.

In Memories Bite Harder, Kate Plain is just that- plain. She blends into her surroundings and observes. Painfully shy and unaware of any of her potential charms, she just goes to work every day, does her time there, quietly and efficiently and then comes home. At night she puts on fuzzy pajamas, gets a warm cup of coco and then writes lurid stories that are published under an alias. Even the picture on the cover of these books are not of her- they are pictures of her sister Elyse

In Count Dorkula, I Presume?, A short story with fast pacing and a lot of heart, Count Dorkula follows a greatly misunderstood surgeon and his new assistant as they go from just a very good team to a couple. Unfortunately for them, the jealous staff of their small hospital is not thrilled with this development especially the nurse who had thought that she would be the one to end up with the tall, dark and mysterious doctor.
